MEGA FAMILY CAMPAIGN

In this campaign, we were keen to focus on the most common diseases that affect every family member and draw attention to this suffering through one family and its members.

We have chosen a creative, interconnected method that links the members of this family in each design to different places in the same house, while choosing an appropriate position for the model according to each disease, while distinguishing each age group and its diseases in one color to make it easier for the viewer to link the campaign to each other and to link the age group with the diseases mentioned.
